NEVADA COUNTY LONG AGO

25 YEARS AGO

An old landmark of North San Juan, the Major McBride residence on Cherokee St. was being torn down. It was built in the 50s.

Henry Huckins and F. S. Wood of French Corral were Nevada City visitors. Mr. Wood had been under-Sheriff of Nevada County many years before and found quite a change in the county seat.

The mail was being carried between Alleghany and Forest by a tractor and sled instead of the usual horses.

Among the Nevada City merchants and business men who ushered a prosperous New Year to the populace of the city were Attorneys Nilson and Nilon in the Morgan and Powell Bldg.; J. F. Colley, confectioner on Broad St.; George A. Grissel, men's furnisher at Pine and Broad St.; Post Master P. G. Scadden; J. J. Jackson, grocer at Pine and Commercial St.; C. W. Leiter, of the Nevada City garage; A. V. Sauvee of the Union Ice Co. Judge Raglan Tuttle of the Nevada County Superior Court; Sheriff George R. Carter; Mrs. Ella M. Austin, supt. of schools; District Attorney W. E. Wright; James Penrose, grocer; the Nevada City

HAROLD HAMPTON

Handsome Harold Hampton is, at 27, manager of one of the largest of Grass Valley super markets. Six feet two and one half and weighing about 200 lbs. Hampton is an ex-Marine who saw fast action in the Pacific when, in an aviation unit, he attacked the Japs in their sea bastion at Pellelieu.

Hampton has been in the grocery business, and working for the same company, since he was a boy in high school. He found time, however, to play a leading role on the Susanville High football varsity.

After graduating from high school, he went to work in the Susanville Public Market and, before he volunteered for the Marine Corps, he had risen to be assistant manager of that store. He served a total of four years with the Marines and, on being honorably discharged, returned to his post at the Susanville store.

A year ago, he was promoted to the managership of the Grass Valley Public Market, which has a staff of six employees. Under Hampton's direction the market has recently completely remodeled and is now one of the most up-to-date and capacious in the area, with a large and complete meat department and liquor department, in addition to excellent lines of frozen foods, canned goods, vegetables and meats.

The Grass Valley Public Market is located in the same large building that houses the Grass Valley Furniture Company on South Auburn Street, near the city limits.

Hampton resides at 655 Whiting Street, Grass Valley. He is a member of the American Legion and the International Order of Odd Fellows.

THE - Diary of a 49'er

FROM THE BOOK EDITED BY C. L. CANFIELD

AUGUST 25, 1850—This last week was fine. We set the Tom Monday morning, put a box at the head of it and were three days and a half washing out the ground, which was about two feet thick. Cleaned up the bedrock and we got sixty three ounces. We stripped off about thirty feet more by noon yesterday and will begin washing tomorrow. Anderson insisted on my taking half. I thought I ought to pay him something for the share in the claim. He wouldn't listen; said we were partners and that he was bound to see that I got that Slocum farm and Hetty, just to teach me that there was trouble in the world. He gets letters

MADAME PANTALOONS

By BERENICE SMALLEY

A lean, long-legged Jackson Gate miner picked his teeth and stared idly at the hefty figure striding down the street. It wore mud-stained jeans, high boots, a rough woolen shirt and a visored miner's cap.

"Nother dad-blasted newcomer," the miner meditated.

The striding figure passed him without a glance. He saw a dark, beardless face — suddenly his eyes narrowed. Those queer looking bulges in the shirt front and around the hips didn't belong on a man. "By gum!" the miner muttered, "h'its a female. Where in all git-out did she cum from?"

SHOCK ABSORBER CARE

Shock absorbers may be automatic, but not to the point of replenishing their fluid, states the Service Department of National Automobile Club. Riding comfort and prevention of shock absorber wear are both dependent upon the motorist's remembering that he still has the job of attending to the liquid supply in the spring control devices.

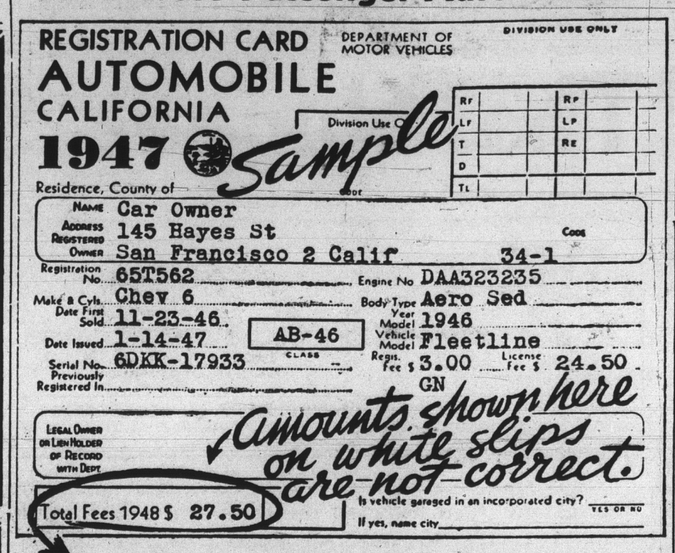
Prepare Your Car For - - -

Here's How to Figure Total 1948 Fees For Private Passenger Automobiles



YOU WILL PAY A DIFFERENT AMOUNT than the figure typed in the lower left corner of your 1947 registration card, the "white slip," when you renew your private passenger automobile license for 1948. New laws changed the amounts after the slips were issued.

TO COMPUTE the "Total Fees 1948" for your passenger car, add $3 to whatever amount is shown in the lower left corner of your 1947 "white slip" and bring that total to the nearest dollar (50 cents or less is dropped; above 50 cents is brought to the next higher dollar). In the sample above, "Total Fees 1948 $27.50" becomes $30.00.

THE MINIMUM fee now set by law is $7. Car owners whose slips show $3.40 or $3.50 as "Total Fees 1948" must pay that minimum.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES and the California State Automobile Association have issued this sample to simplify the situation for motorists. You need to figure the fee only if you intend to renew passenger car registration by mail. Clerks will compute correct fees for owners applying in person.

THE PERIOD FOR RENEWAL is January 2 to February 4, 1948, after which penalty fees are added. Passenger car owners use current "white slip," showing correct address, as renewal application. Commercial vehicle, trailer and motorcycle owners will receive from Sacramento potential registration cards in duplicate (to be used as application) showing their correct registration fees for 1948.

MOTOR HAS GOOD BRAKING POSSIBILITIES

An Even Better Brake

Fine, efficient brakes have resulted in many car operators remaining ignorant of the excellent qualities of the engine as a brake, states the Service Department of National Automobile Club. With high compression ratios, the car's power plant is a better brake than ever before. Used in combination with the brakes by leaving the clutch engaged until the car is almost to a stop, the engine proves its power in another way than in pulling hills.

It's Not A Challenge

"When a car passes you at high rate of speed with a great trumpeting to indicate its onrush, it doesn't mean that the driver is challenging you to a race," declares Bert Stewart, Jr., Public Safety Director for National Automobile Club. "Check the number of motorists who do regard it as such the next time you are out on the well-traveled highway."

New Motor Vehicles

Factory sales of new motor vehicles reached 436,001 in October to make this month the highest production month in 1947, reports the National Automobile Club. Of this total, 315,969 were passenger cars, 118,365 were motor trucks, and 1667 were motor coaches.

Weak Battery Test

The first test for a weak battery is the horn, states the Service eDpartment of National Automobile Club. If you keep the horn and its connections in the best shape possible when its blows weakly you should suspect the battery condition.

CAPT. BLAKE WARNS OF AUTO FAULTS

GRASS VALLEY: "Faulty automobiles are one of the greatest hazards on our highways today", said Captain Jos. Blake of the State Highway Patrol. "Human errors have been eliminated to a great degree with the advent of divided highway and modern traffic control. One thing we can not guard against is bad brakes, headlights out of adjustment and those thousand and one small defects that will not stand up at a critical moment —that moment when an accident can be avoided provided all parts of the car operate efficiently.

By taking care of small needed repairs as they come alone the motorist not only reduces his operating costs but also is safe in the knowledge that he will not be responsible for injury or cause the loss of life.

The Peace Officer of your county, city, or state has a tremendous job to do without covering accidents that could have been prevented had the motorist taken care of small defects when they first became apparent.

NEW RULES ON DRIVING

Drivers of motor vehicles in California must make several important changes in their driving practices as the result of amendments to the State Vehicle Code adopted by the 1947 session of the Legislature. Issuing a summary of the major new regulations today, the California State Automobile Association urged motorists to become familiar with the changes in anticipation of their affective date. Principal changes are:

Right turns against a red light will be permitted when traffic is clear except where a sign prohibiting such a turn is posted. Under the old law such a turn was prohibited unless a sign authorizing it was posted.

Drivers of vehicles traveling at less than normal speed will be required to keep to the right hand lane.

Hitch hikers are barred from standing in the roadway to solicit a ride, though they may stand on the road shoulder or curb.

Motorists crossing sidewalks are required to yield the right of way to approaching pedestrians. This is intended to protect pedestrians near parking lot, garage, service station and other driveways.

The law prohibiting unlawful riding has been broadened to include the driver as an offender if he knowingly permits a person to ride on the fenders, running board or other parts of a car where riding is forbidden.

Motor cycle operators must not carry any other person except in a side car or on a seat securely fastened behind the driver. Handgrips and foot rests must be provided for the passenger.

THE HIGH COST OF CARELESSNESS

What do accidents cost?

The annual price tax on accidents in grief and insecurity because of death or permanent disability is incalculable, but if the economic loss were divided evenly throughout the United States, the cost per family would be approximately $144, safety experts say.

Perhaps that expense didn't hit you or your family because you were careful or lucky enough to avoid accidents. But just in case you do become involved in an accident in 1948, warns the National Conservation Bureau, the average cost for every disabling injury will be $500.

Take a look at last year's startling and tragic accident record. Over 100,000 persons needlessly lost their lives. There were 34,000 deaths, 5,100,000 injuries, and economic loss above $600,000,000 in homes alone during 1947. Traffic accidents came second with 33,500 dead, 1,150,000 injured and a cost amounting to above $2,000,000,000. Occupational and industrial accidents accounted for 16,500 lives, 2,050,000 injuries and a bill for about $2,350,000,000. Add to these the high losses in life, limb and money in public (non-motor vehicle) accidents, airplane crashes, vacation tragedies and so on.

Consider also that the $500 average cost for a disabling accident is mighty low when compared with some of the top price tags—which run into five figures. Now ask yourself, can you afford an accident? Can you afford to be careless or take dangerous chances?

MANY CHANGES NOTED IN DRIVING PRACTICES

Winter Driving

"Winter's wet and icy pavements have greatly increased the dangers of driving", warns Bert Stewart, Jr., Public Safety Director of National Automobile Club. "Wise motorists will drive more slowly ,turn less sharply, and in general adjust their driving practices to these new conditions."

Have Hood Done Over

One way of improving the appearance of your car without undue cost is to have the hood refinished, according to the Service Department of National Automobile Club. More subject to heat than any other part of the vehicle, it is most likely to show the ravages of time. There is no occasion to avoid having the job done on the theory that the rest of the car cannot be matched as to color. There are many shades at the disposal of the refinishing shop and if the present shade is slightly off the original, it can be matched nevertheless. The paint shop does not worry about the problem; why should the motorist?

Mostly Westerly City

Eureka, Humboldt County, is reported by National Automobile Club to be the most westerly city in the United States.

Veterans' News

The Veterans Administration medical service in the Branch 12 area (California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii) cares for an average of more than 12,500 patients a day in VA hospitals, contract hospitals and domiciliary homes.

First priority for admission is given to emergency cases.

Second only to emergency cases on the priority list are veterans with "service-connected" disabilities. These are veterans with injuries or diseases caused or made worse by their service in the armed forces. "Service connection" is estimated when a veteran files a claim with the Veterans Administration and the subsequent check of his service records and physical exam reveal the disease or injury was incurred in the service.

Veterans with "non-service connected" diseases or disabilities, if they do not need emergency care, can be admitted to a hospital only if a bed is available and if they cannot afford treatment elsewhere.

Of the total number of patients treated by the Veterans Administration each day approximately 29 percent are service connected cases and approximately 71 percent are non-service connected.

In addition to hospitalization, veterans with service connected injuries or diseases are entitled to treatment in VA out-patient clinics and, in some cases, by private doctors. Out-patient treatment is NOT available to veterans with non-service connected disabilities.

QUESTION: May a veteran receive full subsistence payments from Veterans Administration if he works while attending school under the G.I. Bill?

ANSWER: He may work part-time or full-time and still draw his full subsistence allowance, provided that the wages he earns for such employment, plus his subsistence allowance while attending school, does not total more than $175 if he has no dependents, or dependents or $200 a month if he has dependents.

QUESTION: If I decide to give up the course of training I am taking under the G.I. Bill, do I have to notify the Veterans Administration of my action?

ANSWER: You should not quit your course of education or training without notifying or obtaining approval of the VA regional office handling your claim. This is necessary so that if you have not exhausted your enlistment, you may qualify for further training.

The year 1947 saw a number of important developments in the affairs of the nations' eighteen and a half million war veterans and their dependents.

The most important development was the establishment of a red-letter day on the calendar of every World War II veteran —July 25, 1947—which marked the end of World War II for determining eligibility for most veterans' benefits.

The July 25th date placed a limit on the time World War II veterans have to apply for education and training. G.I. loans and readjustment allowances.

In the legislative field Congress authorized:

1. Increased subsistence allowances for disabled veterans in training under Public Law 16 if they have a disability rating of 30 percent or more.
2. Extension of the deadline for purchase of autos for amputee-veterans until June, 1948.
3. Extension until September, 1948, the time in which veterans have to apply for unused furlough pay under the Armed Forces Leave Act. Applications may be obtained at any first or second class post office.
4. Conversion of terminal leave bonds into cash.

During 1947 the number of World War II veterans taking advantage of benefits under the G.I. Bill reached new highs. In the VA Branch 12 area (California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii) the record fall enrollments in schools and colleges brought to more than 200,000 the number of veterans enrolled in educational courses or on-the-job training.

The Veterans Administration, which is charged with the administration of federal benefits for veterans and their dependents, will start the new year with a new Administrator.

General Omar N. Bradley, who was responsible for rebuilding and expanding the VA in order to care for the 14 and one-half million veterans of World War II, will become Chief of Staff of the Army after more than two years as Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

General Bradley will be succeeded by General Carl R. Gray, Jr. railroad executive and veteran of both World Wars. General Gray was responsible for organization of the Military Railway Service during World War II and his units took part in the campaigns in North Africa, Italy, France and Germany.

QUESTION: I would like to change the beneficiary on my National Service Life Insurance policy without letting the old beneficiary know about it. Can I do this?

ANSWER: Yes. A veteran may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries of his National Service Life Insurance at any time without their knowledge or consent.

BUY LOCAL MILK

Do You Want To Lose $500,000 Per Year?

Of course you don't. However, that is the dollar deficit this community faces by the possible loss of its locally owned milk industry.

THIS FINANCIAL TRAGEDY NEED NOT COME TRUE

It is no secret that outside milk distributors are seeking to take the milk revenues, which should stay in Nevada County, into large metropolitan areas.

Unless the local milk industry, representing A MILLION DOLLAR INVESTMENT here, can continue on a paying basis, YOU lose a HALF MILLION DOLLARS—those dollars we, the undersigned milk producers and the Bret Harte Dairy spend each year.

YOU DEPENDED ON US for milk during the war years and, according to records of the State Department of Agriculture, we supplied this community with more milk per capita than any other area in the state received.

We did this by KEEPING ON THE JOB from 16 to 18 hours a day. We did it at a time when dairy cattle cost us premium prices and when feeds were scarce and high priced. Why? Because we believed it to be OUR DUTY TO OUR COMMUNITY!

It has always been the AIM of the Bret Harte Dairy, whom we supply, to eventually manufacture locally, butter, ice cream, butter milk, and cottage cheese.

THIS PROGRAM CAN SUCCEED, BUT ONLY IF THE LOCAL DAIRY INDUSTRY RECEIVES THE FULL SUPPORT OF LOCAL STORES AND INDIVIDUAL CONSUMERS, THIS PROGRAM WILL MEAN MORE DOLLARS SPENT LOCALLY, AND MORE PEOPLE HAVING JOBS HERE.

THIS IS AN INDUSTRY THAT RIGHTFULLY BELONGS TO NEVADA COUNTY, MANUFACTURING GRADE MILK NOW SENT TO SACRAMENTO AND THEN TRANSPORTED BACK HERE FOR RESALE IS WASTEFUL AND TAKES YOUR DOLLARS OUT OF YOUR COMMUNITY.

from home but they don't seem to give him much comfort. He reads them, swears under his breath, tears them in bits and sulks for the rest of the day. I sent a draft for five hundred dollars to the old folks last night. That is two thousand dollars I've saved in less than six months.

A woman who kept a boarding house at Selby Flat was killed yesterday. She got tangled in a lariat and was dragged to death by a mule.

We walked down to the Yuba River yesterday. There are about two hundred miners working on the bars and banks and they are doing pretty well. None of them have been able to get into the bed of the stream as there is no way of turning the water. Anderson says there is no use trying it now, as the rains would come before we could get to work, but he believes there is gold by the bucketful if he could get it. We bought about a hundred dollars worth of grub Saturday. There is a little beast here they call a woodrat and he plays the devil with anything left exposed about the cabin.

SEPTEMBER 1, 1850—Washed up two days and sluiced top dirt the rest of the week. The ground is still rich. We got forty one ounces. That is as well as they are doing over on Brush Creek.

I bought a new suit of clothes yesterday, black broadcloth, two white shirts; a Peruvian hat, and a pair of fine boots. The hat cost sixteen dollars, the boots twenty one dollars and the whole outfit with necktie and handkerchiefs, one hundred and five dollars. I put them on this morning and went to town. Pard said I looked like a sport. It's so long since I wore decent clothes that I felt like a fool. I was told that the people living around Caldwell's Store held a meeting and called the place "Nevada City." Nevada is Spanish for snow. The French woman is still dealing twenty one. I went in to see her and started to make a bet when she said: "You can't play at this game; gamblers are barred." I stammered out that I was not a gambler but she said, "You can't play that on me" and I quit. She's got a voice like music and just her speaking to me in that way put me all in a flutter. There are a few women in the town, mostly Mexicans.

There was a dog fight down on the bridge and a lot of money bet on it. The losing dog was pretty badly chewed up, his forelegs bitten through and through, but he never whimpered. His owner was disgusted and swore he would kill him. I asked him what he would take for the dog and I got him for two ounces. He could not walk and I had to carry him. My new boots hurt me like sin and by the time I got to the top of Sugar Loaf I had to take them off and walk over two miles in my stocking feet carrying my boots and the dog. When I got to the cabin my new clothes were a sight but Anderson never laughed. He set to work washing the blood off the dog and binding up his legs. When I told him the story he said I was a good fellow and that the look out of the dog's eyes and the way he licked my hand was worth more than I paid for him.

September 8, 1850—We took out only thirty ounces this past week. The gulch is getting narrow and there is a scant fifty feet more before we reach the ditch. There is a flat about half an acre where the gulch runs out into the creek and Anderson says the channel must run through it. If it does we will have at least another month's work. There was some fun over on Selby Flat last week. A young fellow got stuck on the grass-widow and they went to town and got married. She is at least thirty years older than her husband and when the boys got wind of it they gathered and gave the couple shivaree. He got mad and turned loose a shotgun at the crowd, peppering some of them with bird shot. Then they corralled him and come pretty near lynching him. The boys say they would for sure but the old woman got down on her knees and begged them to spare her dear husband. She prayed so hard that they agreed to let him go providing both would leave the camp next morning. They skipped at night and now there is only one woman left on the flat and about three hundred men. Anderson says one woman is enough to keep the camp a-boiling. I can't make Anderson out. He's as good a chap as ever lived, kind hearted, has no bad habits, always ready to do twice his share of the work if I would let him, but he doesn't seem to have faith in anything or anybody except me. He gets letters from home regularly, reads them, swears and tears them up and never talks about his life or his people. The dog is nearly well and Anderson is making a regular baby out of him. He says dogs are not like folks; they never go back on a friend. There is something on his mind that he broods over but I do not see that I have any call to put my nose in his affairs so I take no notice of his queer moods.

Fashion Swings Full Circle

The "new look" in glove fashions is at least a hundred years old as this fine French Kislav glove proves. Called the "Centennial" because it was designed especially for the one hundredth anniversary of Kislav gloves, it was adapted from French glove styles of a hundred years ago. A perfect accessory for all the new fashions, the glove is made of fine doeskin and—it's washable. It's the ideal Christmas gift for any lady of quality

Just Wonderin'

I Wonder what I'd give the world
If I had power a gift to give,
How could I make existence sweet
For those who have a life to live?
Peace, with all war like banners furled—
I think that's what I'd give the world.

Once while in conversation with a friend, Robert Ingersoll declared that is he had made the world, he would have made health contagious instead of illness. Speaking in the vernacular, I believe Robert had something there. We must admit that contagious health would be something to boast about. For instance, if one felt somewhat under the weather, wouldn't it be great to call upon some healthy neighbor, catch an attack of health and return home to report, "all right now, if I felt any better, I couldn't stand it."

Perhaps no one of us has escaped the desire, to rearrange mundane affairs and make a few changes in the existent order of things. Many things are awry in this world of ours, the world itself is imperfect; we acknowledge this fact every time an avalanche thunders down a mountain side, an earthquake shakes earth's so-called firm foundations, or a runaway river spreads death and destruction in its wake. And, as for the affairs of humanity, who would not change them radically if he could?

At first thought, I decided that, were I able to confer a transcendent gift upon the world, I would bring in an era of peace to all mankind; but would I? A sudden and unearned gift of peace, might not be lasting; the silly pride, greed and hatred of man would be sure to bring an end to that for which we are now striving and usher in another period of war. So, what would I give the world if I were able?

After due considertion, I think I should fill men's minds with wisdom; wisdom which would enable them to see that the world in which we live is one world, that we are all members of the human race and that barriers and discriminations are childish and of no especial significence.

Yes, wisdom, sagacity as it is often defined, is one thing that might bring about the desired results in the field of human relationships, for with it, men could look forward—could, with clearer vision, penetrate the dark fog which beclouds their minds and behold in all its beauty, the citidal of Peace.

I Wonder wht great events will shape the world's progress during the year upon which we are just entering. Will wisdom grow or shrink, will those world leaders to whom we look for redress of wrongs, gain a clear perception of things as they might be? Will our own home-made Congress submerge politics and work together for the good of all? Will labor and management stop the noisy wrangling long enough to hear the echoes of a voice now silent and realize that, "production, production, production," is the real solution to many of our daily problems of living? I Wonder.

Uncle Silas says: "Russia has long been known as the bear that walks like a man, will it come to be known as the bear that talks like a donkey? That "veto, veto" of Mr. Molotov sounds mighty like a bray.

TIME TO PAY AUTO LICENSE, GET NEW TABS

NEVADA CITY: The 1948 silver and red California license tabs are showing up around town in increasing numbers.

Those who haven't obtained them yet from Grass Valley Highway Patrol office have until the close of business February 4th to obtain their tabs without penalty. Department of Motor Vehicles officials urge them to apply as soon as possible to avoid the last minute rush.

There is no waiting for tabs this year. All a private passenger car owner need do is present his 1947 white registration slip, bearing a correct mailing address, pay the increased 1948 fee. His registration card will be mailed to him.

If renewal by mail is preferred, the private passenger car owner should mail his 1947 white registration card to the Department of Motor Vehicles in Sacramento, together with the correct 1948 fee. Personal checks or currency are not acceptable on mail applications.

To obtain the correct 1948 fee, look at the fee listed in the lower left corner of your 1947 registration certificate, add $3.00 and round off the amount to the nearest dollar. The minimum fee is $7.00.

Truck, trailer and motorcycle owners have been advised by mail of their correct fees. They should present the fee notices, pay the amunt listed and receive their tabs and validated registration card immediately.

They also have the option of sending the notice and fee by mail to the Department in Sacramento.

If they have not received a notice of fees due they should present their 1947 white registration card and have their fees computed.

Dentists and Income Tax

A dentists' convention was recently told that dentists suffer from these occupational hazards: flat feet, ulcers, backaches and income tax worries. It is a relief to find there is something that, in the opinion of a dentist, really hurts.

And when they admit in convention that the income tax is a chief occupational hazard they are applying a new significance to that old dental office query, "How does the bite feel?"

We knew something was worrying our molar expert. He hasn't seemed his old self.

"Well, how are you, Mr. Wigeon?" he asked us on our 500th visit.

"The name is Boffle," we corrected, "and always has been, man and boy."

"Print plainly. . . . Give street, city and state address," he went on. "See paragraph IV."

We got into the chair.

"What seems to be the trouble?" he asked.

"It's this one," we explained, pointing.

"Ah! It's in parenthesis," he exclaimed. "This is difficult. I'll need my strong glasses."

He came back with a ledger, two billfolds and some papers.

"Is this ache for the current year 1947?" he mumbled.

The question seemed rambling.

"This is a separate ache, not a joint ache, I assume," he went on. "Makes a big difference if any part of it is your wife's. . . . And remember, you are only allowed six cavities for each child."

We were now somewhat alarmed, but he had his knee in our lap and was exploring away with a forceps, two blue pencils, a blotter and four large ink erasers.

"Looks like a fiduciary," he mumbled. "Or a loss by depreciation. . . . Am I hurting you? . . . If not see Paragraph X, Section VI. . . . Stop struggling, will ya?"

The White House Pooch

The White House has a dog. It's a cocker spaniel sent to the President and Mrs. Truman for Christmas. No longer may it be said of the trials and tribulations that come to White House occupants "This shouldn't happen to a dog."

But being the First Dog of the Land can't be so soft. If the President rolls on the floor with him, the republicans will call him juvenile.

If Mrs. Truman asks the butcher for a little extra meat for the pup, it may mean a scandal. It could even put the pooch on the witness stand before a congressional subcommittee.

And look at all the strange people a White House dog has to get used to! How many of them can unbend, shake off their dignity and act as if they loved dogs. Suppose the pooch bit a Russian envoy? War!

What chance has a dog for much attention around the White House? Certainly not much from the cabinet, which is always in a state of flux. Clint Anderson can't show enough interest in a pup to feed it something in times like these. W. Averell Harriman can't be expected to shake off inflation cares long enough to toss a rubber ball around for the animal.

And wahat freedom does a dog have in the White House? How can he shake off the worry that the bed he jumps all over may be Abraham Lincoln's? Suppose the chair leg he chews up is in the Blue room?

DON BARNARD AT GOLD NUGGET INN

GRASS VALLEY: Don Barnard, well known Hammond electric organist, began an engagement at the Gold Nugget Inn last Saturday night. He is familiar to many Grass Valley residents as he played at the Red Lion in Marysville three years and at the Clover Club there two years. He recently completed an engagement at Donner Village.

Don's electric organ is unusual and interesting—the keys are illuminated in red and green from inside the instrument. Those who have heard Don perform say that his music holds you spellbound and he can play something to suit everyone's taste—sweet or swing, boogy woogy or classical. He will cheerfully play any requests. See if you can stump him.

CAFE AU LAIT

To serve cafe au lait with that party supper ,make coffee your usual way, using 3 tablespoons ground coffee for each serving, says the General Electric Consumers Institute. Heat an equal quantity of milk. Pour hot coffee and milk simultaneously into serving cups and garnish with whipped cream.

CINNAMON APPLE RINGS

As an attractive and tasty holiday garnish, place apples cut into ½-inch slices around the meat in your broiler pan three or four inches from the heat says the General Electric Consumers Institute. Broil 5 minutes and turn. Place cinnamon candies on the apple rings, and broil second side 5 minutes.

SHIRRED EGGS

Tired of fried eggs? Try shirred eggs for a change, advises the General Electric Consumers Institute. Break each egg into a greased individual baking dish. Pour over it a small amount of cream. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and bake in a 350° F. oven 15 to 20 minutes.

DRIVING WHILE DROWSY

Don't drive while drowsy, warns the Public Safety Department of National Automobile Club. It is easier than you think to fall asleep at the wheel. If drowsy, pull off the road, arouse yourself by walking around in the outside air for a while, or even take a nap.

That proved to be a question which neither he nor anybody else at the Jackson Gate Mine was ever able ot answer. Madame Pantaloons" as the miners soon dubbed her, kept her affairs to herself. She made no secret of her sex, She was obviously no tenderfoot. Later, it became apparent that what she didn't know about gravel deposits in the Mother Lode country, could be written on a fingernail.

The richest diggings were in Squaw Gulch and Ohio Hill. Take your choice. "Madame Pantaloons" did. She staked her claim in Ohio Hill and started digging. She did a day's work with the best of them and viewed all overtures of sociability with dark suspicion.

A scant mile from the mines was the town, a lively, thriving hamlet. Narrow winding streets; stone buildings with iron-barred windows and balconied upper stories. Main Street boasted a Hangman's Tree which contributed its share to the local shindigs. Evenings when the miners returned from their diggings, the street teemed with Italians, Mexicans, Greeks, Slavs, and optimistic Americans from virtually every state in the Union.

"Madame Pantaloons" settled dows in the George Brown House. A frequenter of the saloon nearby, she drank her liquor straight, but was never known to get attempted to 'set up' her drinks, attempted to 'set up' her drniks, he found himself facing a grim, unyielding back. A deadly insult. Only her sex saved her from a challenge.

The autumn days went by. Winter, with periods of bitter cold and snow, descended upon the mines. "Madame Pantaloons" appeared impervious to weather conditions. With the other miners, she did her day's stint of digging, grimly silent.

One fine spring day "Madame Pantaloons" climbed out of her diggings for the last time. She went to her hotel, packed her belongings (considerably swelled during the months at the mines, paid her bill and departed on the stagecoach. She wasted no breath on farewells.

A few weeks later newcomers took over her claim. Jackson Gate miners got a shock. "Madame Pantaloons", they learned, had not only taken out $100,000 from her diggings—she had sold the claim to the new owners for $20,000.

The United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, a bureau of the Treasury Department, was authorized in 1807 by Prseident Thomas Jefferon.
